

Expert guidance on education for girls

Welcome back to MyDaughter!

As half-term approaches check out the latest in our popular Heads' Tips series - this time with advice on Parent-Teacher evenings. Also read the latest internet safety advice and our experts' responses to your educational questions and parenting problems...

What's new on MyDaughter?

This month on MyDaughter we have asked our heads for their advice on how to help you make the most of Parent Teacher evenings. Do you go in to the meetings with high hopes, but leave without getting the information you wanted? Do you run out of time or ask the wrong questions? Read our Heads' Tips on Parent-Teacher evenings to ensure you find out all you need to know to support your daughter's progress...

The recent MyDaughter poll asked the question 'How safe do you think your daughter is online?' Results revealed that whilst 57% of parents who took part were aware of their child's online activity, a worrying 43% were not entirely sure of what their child gets up to online or how safe they are. Read 'Protecting and supervising your daughter on the internet' for more advice on keeping her safe, and browse our previous articles on all aspects of Personal and internet safety to be fully aware of all the issues.

Your questions continue to raise the issues that are worrying you and your daughters: from the frequently heard teenage cry 'Why haven't I got a boyfriend?' to solving those tricky friendship tangles at school 'No way to treat a friend...' we have advice for all occasions. Educational dilemmas are tackled too in 'My daughter is so disorganised!'

We hope that you have enjoyed this newsletter - why not take another look at MyDaughter, and if you have a question that we haven't covered yet, why not Ask us a question...

School community trading online is booming and for those of you who have not yet given it a go, www.schoolstrader.com, the free-ads website for school communities, is the place to start. Schoolstrader . Parents, staff and alumni can trade with each other free of charge - everything from musical instruments and houses to ski gear and holiday homes. The site has appeared in The Sunday Times, as a Top 50 website in The Daily Telegraph and online in Which.