

Reception Class Focussed Observations Information

This half-term's theme is Traditional Stories and the season of Winter.

- Writing instructions over the next 3 weeks to accompany a Jack in a Box that your daughter will be making. We will look at a variety of games and how instructions are used.
- Considering words associated with the season of winter, such as:
icy frost snow cold gloves hat

Maths

- Investigating the terms doubling and halving in a variety of practical activities. For instance:

Using mirrors to double and halve – remembering this is about numbers not shape!

Using a cloth and some objects – can you cover up half of them?

Using two hands with different numbers of objects in them:

Both in front – double.

One behind – half.

- We will be learning how to give reasons for our answers.
- Mathematical language:

double half twice as many

- Activities that support the language of subtraction – subtract, less, less than, minus, fewer.
